

CORRESPONDENCE

SALISBURY SQUIBBLINGS.

If these items run together,
Charge it up to torrid weather.

Once for all we answer: Yes, it is hot enough for us. Please note.

Mrs. Belle Davis has been quite sick for several days with pneumonia.

Eld. W. G. Surber filled his regular appointment at Prairie Hill Sunday.

Straw piles and "confetti" are the only reminders of the late street carnival.

William Carlstead of Kansas City came in Monday to see his mother, Mrs. Mary Carlstead.

The county Sunday-school union has been in session here this week with a small attendance.

Why don't our city authorities run the light plant in the afternoon and give all our business men a chance to put in electric fans?

Wm. Rosenstein and Chas. E. Finch of Brunswick came over on business Tuesday. The latter said they had a street fair on hand.

Eld. James Ramsey of Bynumville will preach at the Christian church here, morning and evening, on the fifth Sunday in this month, July 30.

Miss Mary West leaves this week for an extended visit to her brother in California. She will return in time to take up her school duties in the fall.

John Legendre went to Huntsville Monday to purchase a musical instrument for his pretty daughters, who are just now budding into womanhood.

One bad result of the torrid wave, noticeable here, has been a number of "scraps" of a more or less serious nature, but we have been unable to obtain details.

Lucian Cummings and Fred Wanger advertised our mineral water in unique style last week. They are both artists in "making up" and caused many a broad grin.

Prof. Roller has his catalog printed and will solicit students for his school from now on. Jas. O. Rice and Jas. M. Dameron will assist him. We wish them success.

"Aunt" Sarah Todd, an old colored woman, died at her home Friday morning and was buried Saturday afternoon. She was old and feeble and had been assisted by the county for over a year.

The street fair pulled out on time, but so far we have not heard any weeping, wailing or gnashing of teeth. The proprietors and all connected with the carnival were nice people and made friends here.

Miss Emma Darr of Bethany, while attending the street fair here, fell off a porch and sprained her ankle. Miss Onah Million of Boonville, a companion of Miss Darr, fell on the sidewalk about the same time and sprained her arm.

DIED:—At her home in this city, after a protracted illness, Monday, July 17, 1905, Mrs. Mary Carlstead, aged 66 years. Deceased, with her family, moved to this place several years ago and purchased the home where she died and proved herself to be a splendid citizen and church-worker while she was able, and her death is deeply mourned, not only by relatives, but by a great host of friends.

Sam Bray, for many years a butcher here, died at his rooms Sunday from the effects of an injury received a few days ago in falling from a wagon. Sometime ago he was thrown from a horse and badly injured and had not fully recovered from that, it seems, when he received his second hurt. He leaves a wife and four children. While of young appearance, he was quite old and was well known about town.

SUMNER SQUIBS.

Will Carlstead is here visiting relatives and—"the boys."

I. N. Long shipped a carload of cattle to Chicago Tuesday.

Mrs. Jeff Miller went to Chillicothe Friday to visit relatives for a few days.

The Wabash agent at this place sold 15 tickets for the excursion to Chillicothe Sunday.

Will Hodson and others are building a residence for Mace Smart on the corner of Second and Elm streets.

Barr, Steel & Helm, three carpenters of Hale, are building a residence for Lee Massey on North Main street.

Mrs. J. W. Tucker and her sister, Mrs. J. E. Dempsey, attended T. W. Sanders' funeral at Triplett Wednesday of last week.

Fried chicken is ripe, and everybody can feast whose arms are long enough to reach the chickens or who have the price to pay for them.

Mrs. C. W. Northcott and Gray Mathews went to Salisbury Friday, and Miss Alma Tucker departed for Triplett on the same train.

O. H. Williams finished threshing last week. He had 700 bushels of No. 2 wheat and 2,300 bushels of oats. He shipped his wheat to St. Louis.

Ben Edemann was in Sumner Monday morning getting sacks and a large supply of grub. He commenced threshing Tuesday and says his wheat crop is good.

Mrs. Southerland and daughter, Miss Nellie, of St. Louis are here visiting her son, G. A. Southerland, and her daughter, Mrs. S. E. Robinson, and old neighbors.

Tracy & Hopper bought 4,000 bushels of oats and 4,800 bushels of wheat last week. They paid 25 and 27 cts. a bushel for the oats and 82 cts. a bushel for the wheat.

D. B. Howard, wife and little daughter, Grace, former well-known citizens of Sumner, but who are now living in Kansas City, are here visiting friends and relatives.

J. W. Gilbert and Carl Mathews have squared themselves on the books of the COURIER man for another year's subscription to the GREAT FAVORITE WEEKLY. Thank you, gentleman.

Barney Winkelmeyer of Hale was here a part of Thursday of last week visiting his son, Charley, and wife and greeting old friends. Mr. Winkelmeyer is always a welcome visitor in Sumner.

In last week's squibs there was an error as to the time of Mrs. Grace Dudgeon's marriage. She was married last March instead of a year or more ago. Mrs. Dudgeon was a daughter of A. D. Tuft, formerly of this place.

Hale's champion baseball team played Sumner's first nine at Sumner Sunday. Hale, 1; Sumner, 6. Sumner did not play the last half of the ninth inning. The winning of this game made Sumner the champions. Hale did fine batting, but was deficient in field work.

The crop of wheat that was grown on what used to be Swan lake was threshed this week. The crop made 30 bushels of No. 2 wheat to the acre. We were informed by Mr. D'LaMater that they intend to sow 300 acres in wheat this fall. This is destined to be one of the best farms in this township. Messrs. D'LaMater & Young are hustlers and know what they are doing.

WESTVILLE WAIFS.

Farmers in this locality are busy in their hay crop.

Henry O. Green returned to his home at Verdi, Iowa, Friday.

Miss Irene Haney of Marceline is the guest of her friend, Mrs. Geo. Ross.

Emil, the little son of Henry Miller, is very ill of typhoid fever. Dr. Stratton of Rothville is the attending physician.

J. D. Cowser and wife were called to Shelby county Saturday on account of the serious illness of Mrs. Cowser's father.

The icecream supper last Tuesday night at the home of Sam Moore was fairly well attended. We did not learn what the proceeds were.

BRUNSWICK BREVITIES.

The street fair is fair.

T. J. Jones, Wabash trainmaster at Stanberry, was in town Sunday.

Miss Hattie Corby and her mother returned from their Moberly visit Sunday.

Miss Carrie Rosentien came up from St. Louis to visit homefolks and to take in the street fair.

Farmers around Brunswick are very busy threshing and marketing their wheat. Some are going night and day.

The Methodist people are preparing to have a big camp-meeting soon. Rev. Ward M. Baker is trying to secure a noted camp-meeting preacher to conduct the meeting. The date has, as yet, not been fixed.

Mr. Editor, items of local interest are very scarce this week. Our town is full of people and they are all doing the same thing, going up and down the street throwing confetti in one another's faces or squirting water on one another's clothes, yet all seem to enjoy it and take it in the best of spirit. Better come up, Mr. Editor, and get some talcum dusted into your hair.

O'BRYAN OVERTURES.

Frank Stender was a Salisbury visitor Friday.

O. P. Ryals was in Eccles Wednesday on business.

J. F. Johnson of Eccles called on James O'Bryan Saturday.
